william wyler's The Best Years of Our Lives (1946) tells the story of three veterans returning from World War II and adjusting to civilian life in a manner unusual for classical Hollywood cinema with melodrama leavened by authentic detail, personal memories, and a fierce desire to capture its historical moment. Sarah Kozloff's illuminating study of the film traces the contribution of Wyler himself (injured while serving in the US Air Force), Robert Sherwood's screenplay, Gregg Toland's deep-focus cinematography, Hugo Friedhofer's award-winning score, and the ensemble cast of Myrna Loy, Fredric March, Dana Andrews, Teresa Wright, and Harold Russell. The film's poignant message spoke to American audiences reeling from the end of the conflict and the bumpy transition to peace. Producer Samuel Goldwyn received hundreds of letters from ex-servicemen about how accurately his production had captured their experiences. Despite winning nine Academy Awards, Best Years was soon engulfed in political conflict from both the right and the left. Disagreements about the film's politics foreshadowed HUAC's anti-communist investigations and the fracturing of the Hollywood community that culminated in the collapse of the studio system. Sarah Kozloff's discussion of the film's development, production, and reception history draws on archival research to shed new light on our understanding of this much-loved movie and to bring the best years of our lives back where it belongs: in our collections, in our libraries, and in our hearts.

Updated and expanded for a new edition, this is the perfect starter text for students of film studies, packed full of visual examples from all periods of film history up to the present. Film, a critical introduction illustrates film concepts in context and in depth, addressing techniques and terminology used in film production and criticism, and emphasizing thinking and writing critically and effectively with reference to 450 new and existing images. The authors discuss contemporary films and film studies scholarship as well as recent developments in film production and exhibition, such as digital technologies and new modes of screen media. New features in the fourth edition include an expanded discussion of changing cultural and political contexts for film and media industries, including #MeToo, TimesUp, and OscarsSoWhite. Updated examples drawing from both contemporary and classic films in every chapter highlight that film studies is a vibrant and growing field. A new closing chapter expands the book's theoretical framework, linking foundational concepts in cinema studies to innovative new scholarship in media and screen studies. Thoroughly revised and updated discussions of auteur theory, the long take, aesthetic ideology in the superhero film, and more.

It's a wonderful life has become an important holiday tradition for families, but why does the movie have such a profound effect on people, and what are its major themes? James Dillon answers those questions by highlighting the movie's recurring motifs and themes as someone who has walked a similar path to George Bailey. He's the perfect person to tell this story and share life lessons such as sometimes miracles simply involve looking at things differently. Viewing the movie through a lens of spiritual faith can be a productive way to move closer to the Lord. George's life is a journey and a struggle to discover what was there from the beginning, what was always with him, even in times of darkness, and what would be there at the end: God's love. The author also explores the background and context of the movie's origins, the life of its director, Frank Capra, and its place in our culture. Suggestions to facilitate small group discussions are included. Take a spiritual journey and reflect on your faith and purpose with the Gospel of It's a Wonderful Life.
