this book teaches facilities management fm practitioners the steps that can help them take decisive steps towards creating clarity and direction in fm there is something in this book for both seasoned and new fm practitioners as both face the same problem their function is viewed as non strategic a support role and a cost centre as a result of that many fm practitioners are out of synch with the core business activities of their different organizations and are not fulfilled in their roles to help them out of their misery the author shares professional pieces of timely advice to help fm practitioners to not just practice fm the right way but to also be knowledgeable enough to position their functions as a strategic one the book bridges the gap between what is desired in fm and what the reader already knows in a deliberate attempt at offering solutions that cut across the industry what is facilities management all about tackles the challenges facing fm in a ground up approach first the book seeks to get readers to be aligned with fm identity and proceeds to outline ways in which practitioners can make fm a value centre instead of a cost centre or a profit centre at the end of the book readers will be more informed about the identity of fm the mission of fm and the core responsibilities of fm with this knowledge they can be in a better position to relate their function to top executives in their organization so as to elevate it to a strategic one hence the book is a must read for both new and seasoned fm practitioners

What Is Facilities Management All About?

facilities management is a diverse field that demands a lot from its practitioners despite this the fact that senior management of organizations still sees facilities management as a cost center is upsetting as a result of this misconception facilities management budget is often subjected to countless reviews which usually ends in the budget being cut the eventual lack of fund caused by these budget cuts has a significant effect on fm in delivering its duties even with so little so much is expected of the fm department if fm doesn t show signs of being a good steward with the funds entrusted in their care winning next budget proposals becomes nearly impossible and such an event would further reduce the performance rating of fm with a low performance rating the already below par image of fm in the eyes of senior management will take further hits and fm will continually struggle before it wins funds for the execution of the facilities
