Cairo 1937. French-born Colette Rossant is waiting out World War II among her father's Egyptian Jewish relatives from the moment she arrives at her grandparents' Belle Époque mansion by the Nile. The five-year-old Colette finds companionship and comfort among the other outsiders in her home away from home: the cooks and servants in the kitchen, the chef Ahmet lets Colette taste the ful, she learns how to make sambusaks for her new friends, and she shops for semites and other treats in the Khan al Khalili market. Colette is beginning to understand how her family's culture is linked to the kitchen, and soon she will claim Egypt's food landscape and people as her own. Apricots on the Nile is a loving testament to Colette's adopted homeland with dozens of original recipes and family photographs. Colette's coming-of-age memoir is a splendid exploration of old Cairo in all its flavor, variety, and wide-eyed wonder.

The Nile, like all of Egypt, is both timeless and ever-changing. In these pages, renowned Egyptologist Toby Wilkinson takes us on a journey downriver that is both history and travelogue. We begin at the first Nile cataract, close to the modern city of Aswan. From there, Wilkinson guides us through the illustrious nation birthed by this great river: we see Thebes with its Valley of the Kings, the Valley of the Queens, and Luxor Temple; we visit the fertile Fayum, the Great Pyramid of Giza, and finally the pulsing city of Cairo, where the Arab Spring erupted on the bridges over the water. Along the way, Wilkinson introduces us to the gods, pharaohs, and emperors who joined their fate to the Nile and gained immortality, and to the adventurers, archaeologists, and historians who have all fallen under its spell. Peerlessly erudite, vividly told, The Nile brings the course of this enduring river into stunning view.
